Hail to thee, O Euclid High School
To thy name all praise we sing.
Happy days of youthful pleasure,
Learning, living, life so dear.
Our hearts fill with gratitude
For all that is to be;
Alma Mater Euclid High School
All our praise we sing to thee.

Where the blue of Erie's waters
Casts the sun's bright golden rays,
There all Euclid's sons and daughters
Sing the joys of student days.
If after days be dark and drear,
And storms of life draw nigh,
The memories of our friendships here
Will lift our hearts to Euclid High.

EUCLIDIAN
SURVIVING THE CUTBACKS
Euclid High School
711 East 222nd Street
Euclid, Ohio 44123
Volume 40
The year 1988 was one full of hurt and suffering for the Euclid School Board. Financial problems sent our beloved system running for cover to avoid the bullet of cutbacks. Unfortunately, the revolver of debt eventually hit its target. The failure of the levies caused a decline in Euclid’s educational system and made for many reductions.

The important fact remains that the system kept moving right along. Although athletes were expected to come up with a sixty dollar fee, and the student body had to pay ten dollars for general activities, this did not dampen the spirit of Euclid. In addition, a few of the course offerings were dropped. The long remembered planetarium system and industrial arts are no more.

The losses were unavoidable and inevitable, but our schools learned to adjust. The staff took some hard hits, as did the quality of the system. These cutbacks turned our excellent education into an average one. The fate of the Euclid school system depends on the passage of a levy submitted to the voters in the election of November 1988. However, through all the reduction phases Euclid has learned to roll with the changes.

STUDENT LIFE

Sat. nite 8-11 pm
Picnic DANCE 4.0
The students at Euclid High School had many things that they liked to do when they weren't in school. Steve Tajgiszer liked to lift weights, Gunny Meaney liked to work out, and Curtis Spencer liked to speak Spanish with his friend Patricia Maria. Holly Pirsig liked to go to concerts and had a great time when she went to see George Michael. Jon Holmes enjoyed building bikes and going on biking tours.

Sometimes, though, it wasn't so easy to find the time to do what they liked to do, because there was a lot that had to be done in addition to school. There was always homework, drivers ed, filling out forms and applications to get ready for college, and trying to explain to parents why they were so busy. Somehow, through all of that, they managed to keep up with their friendships and go to practice for football or swimming and the meetings for clubs. All in all, high school students were pretty incredible people!

They're usually taken for granted, but some refered to them as being 'a home away from home'. Most students felt as long as they're going to be there, they would try to enjoy some part of it. Lockers gave students the chance to express themselves personally.

Most decorated their lockers with pictures of men or women, pets, rock groups, family or friends, or even installed extra shelves to fit more books.

No locker was complete if it didn’t have a mirror. This was very important, especially for those who had to admire themselves between classes.

Lockers tended to become annoying after awhile. They either wouldn’t close or wouldn’t open, which led to much frustration among students, or a great excuse if you were late for class.

In general, lockers weren’t just those ugly green or brown metal, coffin-like boxes for holding books. It was what you made of them that made the difference.

Come Sail Away

Homecoming weekend sailed smoothly along

The Euclid High School Homecoming festivities began at 7:00 pm on October 8, 1988 with the introduction of the year’s candidates for Queen and attendants. After the introduction Student Council members released hundreds of blue and gold helium filled balloons and the football game began.

The Euclid Panthers showed their awesome talent and pride against Mayfield High School. They scored the first time they had the ball (and almost every time after that) as they went on to record a 58-0 victory. Robert Smith ran for four touchdowns and Terry Roscoe blocked a punt in the end zone for a safety. As usual for the season, the first team sat out most of the second half. It only rained a little during the game and did not dampen the Homecoming Queen festivities during halftime. The game provided a perfect beginning for the 1988 Homecoming weekend.

The sophomore attendant was Stacie Yuhas, and the junior attendant was Sarah Granito. The second runner-up for Queen was Valencia Strowder, the first runner-up was Barbie Jurkovic and the 1988 Homecoming Queen was Vicki Medved.

The 1988 Homecoming game was truly one to remember since it was the first one in three years in which the homecoming fans did not have to seek shelter underneath the stands or their umbrellas from torrential rains. The evening began with a series of festivities and concluded with a football victory and fireworks. In a victorious and spirited mood the Euclid Panthers went on to enjoy a weekend filled with Homecoming festivities.

On October 8, student council went to work creating the perfect atmosphere of a cruise ship docked in the port of a tropical island. Life preservers lined the walls, beautifully colored balloons magnetized to the ceilings, and rippling crepe paper fell to the floors, all of which created a dazzling night at sea. That night Vicky Medved was crowned Queen, with senior attendants, Barbie Jurkovic and Valencia Strowder; junior attendant, Sarah Granito and sophomore attendant, Stacie Yuhas. Although not everyone could be crowned Homecoming Queen and her court, undoubtedly a spectacular evening was shared by all. -Jennifer Mason

1988 Mini skirts, baggies, crop shirts and acid wash everything! From toddlers to the aged, punks to prep, we all were wearing acid washed clothes. Accessories were also big those days. Colorful scarves were used for all purposes. Some used them for belts, a head piece, or just a plain old scarf around the neck. Also matching earrings, rings and bracelets were big. All of this jazzed up the basic colors that were in.

Those were the trends, this is what’s happenin! Although some of them dared to be different.

After School Hours
Euclid students balance work and more work

Going to work after school could be either a relief or a nightmare for Euclid students who had the pleasure of this auspicious duty. Seeing your fellow employees was a sort of salvation when compared to your depressing day at school. On the other hand, your tardy law enforcing first period teacher seemed like Robin Hood compared to your agitated boss on an even worse day. Jobs gave a student a sense of responsibility and pride in spending their hard earned dollar. They also prepared you for future employment while alleviating home boredom. There were different types of jobs to satisfy different types of interests. A majority of students could be seen slaving away at either the Mall, Dave's Supermarket, Bernie Shulman's, or various other stores in Shore Center. We salute the students who were able to juggle school work and a job. It's not easy, but some have fun doing it. -Bill Castrovince

Halloween gives students a chance to show off

Trick or Treat" for the students of Euclid came on a Monday. As the morning began, students came pouring in dressed in costumes ranging from the sweet and innocent such as a baby to the outrageous salon girls of the old west. What did these courageous students have in common? They were having fun.

As the day ended and the bewitching hour of midnight came closer, the members of Student Council came dressed to help the little monsters and angels of Euclid have fun yet a safe Halloween.

Hearts And Masks
Masquerade is theme for Valentine's ball

The 1989 winter formal dance fell on February 11, a little short of Valentine's Day but not short of high spirits and great times. The E-room had been changed earlier in the afternoon from the everyday scene to a total pink and red valentine look. Balloons floated in the ball room and party masks adorned the walls. It was the typical superb decorations that are expected from Student Council.

The evening began with dancing and refreshments and many smiling faces that lasted all night long. Around ten o'clock the announcements of the 1989 Valentine Ball King and Queen were made by Student Council president Mary Sweet. The Second Queen attendant was Kathy Kushma, Carmen Petti and Tracy Scollaro were tied for First Queen attendant and Danielle DeSico was Queen. The Third King attendant was Matt Davis, the Second King attendant was Jay Tucci, the First King attendant was Tony Dushaj, and the King was Tawfiq Akhir. After they were crowned, the traditional court dance was occurred. The remaining part of the dance was devoted to talking with friends, catching a few extra pictures, and having a really exciting night. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves and had a fun time. The memories will live in the years to come.

Being a majorette is an activity for some students.

Euclid High School offered a variety of different activities to choose from. The wide range of possibilities enabled every student to find at least one spot where they could belong. Sunny U, a transfer from Laurel School said "the opportunities at Euclid are much more varied than at Laurel. I have a much better chance to find something I am interested in." The student who participated in many activities had a better chance of being accepted to college. Not every student could belong to many activities, however, they could leave memories that would live in a student's mind forever.

Due to levy problems, the "88' Marching Band season almost did not begin but with the help of the new Head Director, Mr. Joel Sarich, Co-Director, Mr. Oscar Schwartz and Percussion Director, Mr. Jeff Milton the down beat of the season was given in August at Band Camp. Band Camp lasted for two weeks and then the school doors opened. Every Friday they marched and played for school spirit. It was tough getting started for many of the new people as well as the veterans. The Marching Band learned five shows which included the traditional script Euclid that was presented at the last home game. With loud notes and new uniforms they followed the team to victory. This year's program was difficult because of the uncertainties with school finances and the number of new members. Next year should better because of many new ideas.

The Majorettes are out leading the band

This year’s majorettes were made up of five girls. They were very prepared for this year’s football season. They attended both a National Band Front Camp at Wooster College and the school’s band camp here at Euclid. This was for two weeks and began before the start of the school year. At Wooster, they received four first and one second place awards. These were categorized and judged from banner to spirit. In spite of a few injuries, the girls, lead by co-captains Lisa Riedel and Jennifer Beck, did a great job this 1988 season.

The 1988-89 Symphonic Wind Ensemble began its blue and gold year with a new director, Joel Sarich. Many of the members were encouraged to participate in various other music activities, such as Regional Orchestra, Honors Bands throughout Ohio and summer music camps.

Members of the Symphonic Wind Ensemble were chosen by audition. Each person was required to perform an assigned piece of music. In addition to the audition, there was also a sight reading piece which had to be performed on the spot. The musicians were ranked on the basis of their auditions. The best musicians were chosen from each section and combined to form the Symphonic Wind Ensemble.

They performed concerts in February and in May.

This ensemble of talented musicians is a tradition and begins another crescendo towards years to come.

Concert Band

Concert band was made up of musicians who, after completing the marching band season, worked hard and practiced for the annual winter and spring concerts. With a new band director, Joel Sarich, the band learned the notes of many new tunes. Playing in the band prepared the students for future musical study and achievement which could of promoted them to a spot on the Symphonic Wind Ensemble.

The music program began with a difficult start, but with the combined efforts of students and directors the band kept playing within Euclid's halls and continued its fine tradition.

As the new year unfolded, changes occurred within the orchestra. Miss Cathy Riczo became director of the smaller, younger group of string players. Having only five seniors, namely, Heidi Martin (president), Lucretia Dillard (vice president), Helen Chen, Lara Lomac and Beth Perdan, the orchestra would seem a group less experienced in the traditions such as the "Hallelujah Chorus." Their size made little difference in the determination and effort exemplified as they played in the Christmas, Winter, and Spring Concerts. Ensembles and soloists performed at the annual music competition while many joined the difficult "Big Show's" pit orchestra. Not seen as a probable survivor of the levy turmoil, the Euclid High orchestra surprisingly appeared as a strong, although smaller, set of entertaining musicians.

-Heidi Martin

As the new orchestra director Miss Riczo got it all together.
988 brought back the Stage Band of Euclid High with its instatement of Joel Sarich. The blue and gold toured throughout Virginia Beach, Williamsburgh, and Busch Gardens. On March 3, they also traveled to the Lake-land Jazz Festival and presented their best musical ability to swing those powerful notes. The Euclid Jazz Band included many seniors this past year, making it crucial for new talent to enter 1989-90's band. With a little enthusiasm, the swinging tradition will be back next year to have those great blow-out sessions which made so many memories for so many people.

Choral Masters was choir composed of about 65-70 students. They met first period every day and learned various songs, including jazz, some gospel and some rock.

In order to be a part of Choral Masters the students had to be selected by Mr. Godfrey, the music coordinator for the high school. The choir gave two shows during the year, one during the winter and one during the spring.

Mixed Choir was the beginning choir that prepared students for the more advanced Choral Masters. They met both second and third periods. They learned the basics of singing and produced shows in the winter and the spring with the Choral Masters.

Mr. Godfrey has done a great job with the two choirs at the high school and also with the choirs at the middle school.

Singing And Dancing

Varsity Chorale is Euclid's song and dance group

Varsity Chorale also known as VC was the Euclid High School’s show choir. The 88-89 Varsity Chorale consisted of sixteen girls and eleven guys. This year’s officers were the following: Jennifer Waltermire -President, Mike Betts -Vice President, Mary Jo Miller -Secretary, and Jenny Jones -Treasurer. However, the man and energy behind the success of Varsity Chorale was Euclid’s choir director, Mr. Godfrey.

Varsity Chorale had a tradition of going on a trip to somewhere in the United States for a week. This year, the show choir was planning a trip to Virginia Beach and Bush Gardens for a week of relaxation, fun, performances, and competition. Previous trips included New York, Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans, and Disney World. This year Varsity Chorale went to various show choir festivals around the state as well as going on a long trip.

Although the trips are entertaining and sound like fun, the preparations and practices before hand were sweaty and hard work. So come and be entertained by the show choir of Euclid High School, Varsity Chorale.

-Helen Chen
The 1988 football season was an incredible one. Not only was the Panther team an outstanding group of guys, but the cheerleaders were too.

These girls started their season long before school began. In fact, it started last spring soon after tryouts were held. When summer came, practices were held for future competitions at cheerleading camp. It took place this year at Hiram College for four days with intersquad each night. The judging was based on home cheers and chants and new material learned everyday. The final competition left the squad with a spirit award and a superior plaque. Previous competitions also gave them two blue (superior) and one red (excellent) ribbon.

Once camp was behind them, the girls had high expectations for the 1988 football season. Practices were then concentrated on the upcoming season. But before it started it was over. It was an unforgettable season thanks to the football players, the cheerleading coach, Mrs. Yuhas, and all of the girls that made the 1988 football cheerleading squad what it was.

One last note to all the cheerleaders, just remember "I Never..." -Kathy Kushma
Basketball Cheerleaders add spirit to the game

The 1988-89 Basketball Cheerleaders along with the Basketball team, started off a great season this year. After a few uniform adjustments, the season began with a series of away games. At each one of the games the girls did a fine job in promoting school spirit. Not every game was as exciting or filled with cheering fans but the girls cheered their team to numerous victories. The second half of the twenty-game season was based around home games here at Euclid. With home games and a little more support for the basketball team the 1988-89 cheerleaders helped in making the winter sports season a great one.

Student Council-the backbone of Euclid High School and a supporter of the community. Student Council has worked behind the scenes of Euclid for many years, both in the high school and in the community. This year, under the direction of Miss Bambic, Mary Sweet, President and Lee Swope and Liz Oroz as vice presidents led the Student Council in its continual tradition of support.

The school's activities depended much on the help and planning of Student Council. It is made up of representatives from each class which planned the regular dances and Homecoming and Winterfest, decorated the halls and cafeteria of Euclid High School for the Christmas season, and in general promoted the spirit of Euclid High School.

Student Council's support, however, exceeded the boundaries of the school and was felt throughout the Euclid community. In the fight for the school levy, the Student Council passed out pamphlets and promoted its passage. It helped the less fortunate in the community with a collection of money for Thanksgiving dinners and through canned food drives. Student Council also went further than the community's boundaries to extend its help to the world in its collection for projects such as the United Way.

The Student Council was a vital part of the planning, support, and promotion of both the Euclid High School and the Euclid community and looks forward to a rewarding future.

Senior class cabinet plans activities for the senior class

Spirit, organization, imagination, hard workers - all of these words describe the talented senior class cabinet. Composed of 18 eager seniors and under the very able and enthusiastic direction of Mrs. Fox, Mr. Pasquale and Mr. McGuinness, the important task of funding and planning prom became as easy as child’s play. Meeting as a homeroom provided time to hammer out the tough decisions and allowed the cabinet to become a family of close friends. Activities organized included Senior Talent Night, Elf Day, flower sales and two great dances; the Halloween and Toga Dance. Senior sweatshirts were sold and the senior luncheon, graduation and most importantly the first twelve-hour prom ever at Euclid were planned.

Being the sole cabinet left at Euclid robbed the group of much class competition but yet the seniors led not only the class of ’89, but the entire school. Amidst cutbacks caused by levy failures of spring and summer ’88, the cabinet came to represent the determination of the Panthers to succeed—and that they did. The levy passed, the "historical" prom was planned and the spirit of the class of 1989 Cabinet brought about a stupendous and first-rate year!

D.E.C.A. helps students to enter retail fields

D.E.C.A. (Distributive Education Clubs of America) was the student run club that coincided with the Marketing Education class. Euclid's program was designed for juniors and seniors who were interested in a career in marketing and management. In their junior year, the students attended classes and studied the stock market, business finance, marketing research and many other business related fields. Seniors spent part of their day in school learning about everything from job interviewing, to advertising and sales. During the remainder of the day they were employed in retail establishments within the Euclid area in a variety of retail, wholesale, or service establishments. In D.E.C.A., students competed against other high school students on the local, state and national level in areas related to their career interest.

The Euclid High School Key Club was an organization that helped out with school and community activities. The club was sponsored by the local Kiwanis clubs and has been here at Euclid for about thirty-nine years. This year, the Key Club helped in many activities at school such as setting up and guiding for our open house. The Euclid Key Club was made up of people who really wanted to help others. Many of the members learned it takes a great amount of responsibility, but in the long run it makes you feel good about helping others. The Key Club was sponsored by Mr. Allen Black.

NHS was for students that had superb records in service. NHS was a nationwide organization that consisted of students noted for their excellence in scholarship, service, and leadership abilities. NHS was made up of students who were picked at the end of their junior year. NHS did services for their school. Some major projects were being Student Helpers for Open House. They helped parents find teachers. Another activity was the tea party to get students interested in NHS and to find out more about it. The honor society's most exciting activity was planning for the induction of new members in the spring.

This year's officers included Missy Long, president, Jennifer Davis, vice president, Marie Sheridan, secretary, and Steve Dekleva as treasurer. Mrs. Schmeling was NHS' advisor.

It has been a rewarding year for the members of the National Honor Society.

Robert was a walking zombie, Susan was eating flies and talking of a strange lady in the graveyard, Marcus was murdered and people were disappearing everywhere. The last thing Tod and Luisa Wilson needed to hear was that their next door neighbor, Mina Alucard, was really a vampire! The police, Duffy and Wallace, weren't able to help either and so the "vampirologist," Dr. Van Helsing, from New York, was called in to search Malice House Academy for "Oscar," the flesh-eating bat, and the cause of these mysterious occurrences. Such a crazy farce was the scene of 1988's Fall Play, "Lady Dracula," and it included a search for Lady Dracula's coffin led by Van Helsing and conducted by Tod and Luisa, Kim, Opal, Estelle and Mike (the students), Mona (the maid), Mrs. Sink (the housekeeper and Susan's mother), Camille Stanford (a teacher), and Dr. Lawrence Finley (a blood disease specialist). Limited to two performances because of the football playoffs, the cast presented a hysterical and entertaining play suited for the Halloween season. The patience and excellent direction of Judith Carmody with assistance from student director Thomas Kermode Jr. glued together the talents of the performers and made this exciting play possible.

A pair of plays showed holiday spirit

Can this be happening? Can this be true? What am I hearing people say. The tiniest of Toddletots got mad and ran away.” If that’s not enough, the toyshop is under a spell and Santa has amnesia. These trials were the subjects of the holiday plays, “The Season Santa Forgot He Was He” and “Trouble in the Toddletot Toy Factory.”

The latter, written by Judith L. Carmody, involved Terina Toddletot’s disappearance while father Terrence is away, leaving opportunity for the perverse sorceress, Granny Grumpleskin, to place Tweedle, Twiddle, Theresa, and Theo Toddletot under a glitter and “Bibble babble” bound spell. Only with help from Mort the Moose and Ginny, Jenny, and Joleen Grumpleskin can order be restored.

In “Santa Forgot,” a bump on the head causes St. Nick to lose all memory of Christmas. Doc Rick prescribes “exposing Santa to the things that he knows” which (as told by the narrators) Mrs. Claus, Olga, Elsie, and Ben try in vain. Fortunately, a shooting star provides the “wee whack” to bring Santa’s memory back!

The second graders thoroughly enjoyed the delightful songs and antics of the cast. Thanks to the performers and Miss Carmody for an indubitably jolly good show and “milk and cookies too”.

AFS, the American Field Service, has been the source of world culture at Euclid for many years. It has brought students from all over the world to let our community discover the world that surrounds us. After much success in these AFS exchange experiences, Euclid High School has allowed many foreign students from other organizations to become a part of our school also. Yet AFS is the only organization which has an active club of both the EHS student body and the foreign students.

This year AFS sent two of our students abroad for the summer. Danielle Tuckermann went on a work program in Great Britain while Curt Spencer traveled South into Paraguay for the language program. As the summer ended and Curt and Danielle began to travel back home, AFS opened its arms to Maddie Cruz from the Dominican Republic many other organizations also opened their arms to foreign students this year. ARC, Adventures in Real Communications had 3 students representing its organization this year. These students were Fernando Alcazar of Madrid, Christina Conde of Spain, and Thomas Bornemann of West Germany. The third was a foreign student from the Educational Foundation for Foreign Study. AFS sponsored Celine Dojwa.

All these students came through these organizations in conjunctions to experience a different culture and learn more about other people. Not only the foreign students but also the American students became acquainted with the different cultures and the world around them.

Foreign Language Club explores languages

The Foreign Language Club acted as a bridge to the other cultures of the world. It provided the Euclid students with a taste of foreign lands through different activities both in and out of school.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Koenig, the Foreign Language Club held activities such as a Christmas party made up of a different variety of cultural foods, dinners at the many different ethnic restaurants found in the area, and other activities which helped to enhance the students awareness of world cultures.

The Foreign Language Club allowed the Euclid students to get together and have a great time while learning and experiencing many bits and pieces of the many different cultures of our world.

Among Your Peers

Peer Tutors give academic help to students

You're struggling through a dense murky jungle of definitions and homework problems. There seems to be no end to the questions stabbing you like thorns of a poisonous vine. Then, like a light at the end of a tunnel, as a weedwacker to hack away at such troublesome tendrils (in simpler words - tests), emerges the peer tutor. Being less dramatic, the work of these student "teachers" is somewhat overlooked.

The process goes as follows: The student needing help; namely, the "tutee"; applies at their unit office. Then Miss Spiga, the advisor for the system, matches up the "needy" with those peer tutors who have a free period because of a study hall or can come after school. During three week sessions, the two meet and tear down the walls of confusion. Sometimes, they fail but more often both gain from the experience. The tutee gains a new understanding and knowledge of the subject; the tutor, experience in instruction and patience. The peer tutors are hard workers who not only care about their own grades but also are generous enough to share their abilities with others. -Heidi Martin

Aiding The Audio-Visual

Media Aides are the action behind the shows

The Euclid High Media Aides are a true asset to the school. Headed by Mr. Allen Black the A.V. men are responsible for the sound and lighting for such events as Senior Talent Night, Choral Concerts, and Big Show. The backstage jobs are often overlooked as being simple and effortless but without the dedication of these young men the shows could not go on. The Audio Visual department is also responsible for delivering movie projectors, overheads, cassette players and VCR's to teachers.

Being a Media Aide is for the student who is interested in audio equipment. They help out with the operation and maintenance of all audio-visual equipment in the school.

Giving Help

Ad Club and Office Aides assist school

The AD Club, under the direction of Mr. Raicevich, was in charge of selling tickets at Euclid High School's home games. This club was, in truth, a volunteer club. The Euclid students volunteer their time for part of the evening in order to provide the athletic fans with the shortest wait in line possible. No matter which home sports event, the Euclid High AD Club was there, selling those tickets and collecting the money.

-Kristine Hren

The 1988-89 school year brought many changes to the Office Aides, rules. Along with these rules came new name badges. The badges identified the office aide to the security and paraprofessionals. The new rules did not change the responsibilities of the office aides. Their duties still included filing, running errands, answering the telephone, etc. These fine students are a dedicated group that help to keep the offices running smoothly.

Ski Club gave students at Euclid High School an opportunity to learn the basics of skiing. "It certainly makes the winter a lot more enjoyable," said Becky Hopkins. Kristin Attwood and Matt Hopkins said they "enjoy the fabulous sensation of gliding over the snow."

The Ski Club skied at Boston Mills Ski Area in Thursday evenings. A tour bus took them out and back. Also, on Martin Luther King Day a bus load went to Cockaigne Ski Area in New York. They skied the entire day and came back in the evening. As Leslie Higham said, "New York is so much more exciting since it's so much bigger and we get to ski during the day."

The ski program at Boston Mills is especially suited for beginners since they get to take lessons each time which makes it much more enjoyable. As Karen Reed, Missy Long, and Mary Sweet said, "I learned how to Pop."

Mr. Von Benken was the advisor for the Ski Club.

The Good Morning And Cultural People
The faithful P.A. Announcers and the club with culture

Every school day morning at about 9:27 A.M., the students of Euclid high would raise their sleepy heads to hear the words, “Good morning, Euclid Panthers!” This was the opening statement for the high school P.A. announcements which were arranged to provide the student body with important information and updates throughout the school year.

At the end of the 1987-88 school year, several juniors tried out for the duty of P.A. announcing. Only eight students were elected for the job that would serve as their homeroom. They were chosen based on diction, volume, and clarity of voice. They did a great job this past year and brought excitement and originality to the air waves.

- Stevie DeJong -

The Euclid Cultural Committee was initiated at a time when there was a need to eliminate the thick racial tension that existed at Euclid. It was felt that an effort was needed to better things, so a group was created where people of different races and backgrounds could gather and interact positively. To date, Euclid has come a long way, and the racism that does exist is far too sophisticated. Therefore, the Cultural Committee has altered its purpose. They have tried, instead, to increase cultural awareness among the students and community. They have done this in past years with shows and functions such as the Cultural Fair. To this day, they are still working for awareness and unity in the community and they feel they are getting closer.

The 1988-89 Survey was a success. This school year's newspaper was edited by Betsy Tobolewski and Bill Castrovince, who were supported by a fine staff of future journalists. The articles covered anything from sports news to the levy to the unfortunate Browns. Although relatively shorter than former years, the Survey contained all the news vital to the school. Concisely put, if it wasn't in the Survey, you didn't need to know about it.

Model U N teaches world politics

Hey, future ambassadors, politicians and corporate executives! If you had interests such as these then the Model U.N. would have been a great club. It was an organization run by college and high school students throughout the nation. It was essentially like the real United Nations but run by students. Last year, the club members got the chance to understand and try to solve world problems both economical and political. They won excellent recognition for their efforts at the Cleveland Council. This year the Chairperson was Sunny U. Helen Chen was in charge of the economics session and Lisa Baber was secretary. Last year's seniors instilled a strong foundation for this year's members on which to build.

Think ahead some 30 years from now. What will be the only remains of your four high school years besides the memories? The answer is in your hand. The yearbook refreshes the memories when they start to fade. This is the staff that diligently worked to assemble this collection of 1988-89 memories into a book. Mr. Von Benken advised the staff on the "ways of the deadline" while keeping all of the potentially ripping seams in place.

This year's book is a very special one for two reasons. Firstly, this marks the 40th edition of the Euclidian. Secondly, a touch of class was added with a colored Senior section.

Synchro Splashing

A magnificent show in H two O.

If you were wondering what Wai Napolo is, it is a synchronized swim club. The members put on a two night show at the end of April. Everyone starts practice in January for the big show. This year’s theme was “Water Reels” which let the members choose songs from the movies. This year the club was blessed with many new students. Hopefully, they will continue the traditions set down by the eight departing seniors. Senior show director, Vicky Jaworsky, said that she had a wonderful four years and wished good luck to the 1990 Wai Napolo Club.

Seniors get a chance to show off their talent

Success was stamped all over this year’s senior talent night. Seven was a magic number – the show having seven masters of ceremonies and seven super acts ranging from “Master Blaster’s” jazz to magic to the rhythmic “Groove Me”, from “Summer Nights” to “Cruel Fate.” Comedy crew was, as an understatement, very well liked for the endless laughter they brought. The longest, most popular and most “tearful” act starred the entire senior class on their eighteen year trip to the present, in the slide show. Gluing all these pieces together into their picture of perfection were directors Miss Sandi Bambic and Miss Sue Amato.

The original goal of talent night, raising money for prom, seemed a sideline to the craziness and fun on stage.

The realization that their senior year, the last year together, was at hand began to sink in. The long hours together were cherished; the time was spent as a family working toward the goal of having the best show possible. The formula worked as large crowds reappeared on all three nights to see the real talent of the class of ’89.

Lots of money was made as a by product of the friendships and memories made of their night in the spotlight!

-Heidi Martin

“Master Blaster” had Sally Bierer, Domenic Gubitosi, Bill Kunes, Vince Riha, Jim Segulin, Dave Bauer, Shaun Pall, Tom Reynolds, Joe Cesa, Roger Kunes, Molly Miller, Dave Cupar and Mark Tomsic.

Senior Talent Night
"Cruel Fate" with Mike Blasius, Steve Eichhorn, Mike Holloman, Mike Pietrowski and Anthony Tirabassi.

"Magic Act" with Jeff Simon and Annie Cirino.

Senior Talent Night
The 1988-89 sports year at Euclid High School proved to be very successful. The new “pay to play” clause did little to dampen the spirits of this year’s players. Many upperclassmen turned out to participate in the athletic program and the continuation of the complete freshmen sports programs made it possible for students of all grade levels to participate in interschool competition. With the passage of the levy in November, Euclid’s money problems have been postponed for the present. Euclid may now dream again for the future. We can only hope that Euclid will be able to continue its winning ways in the years to come.

This year's Euclid High School football team was nothing short of extraordinary. The Panthers broke records that have been set at Euclid for years. The team destroyed nearly every team that stood in their way. Fans would come hoping for a hard, tough ball game but frequently would be thrilled by the electricity of a soaring Panther score early in the game. The defense was tough and hard hitting throughout the year and the offense generated its own lightning with fantastic, dashing runs and high flying touchdown passes.

The offense led by quarterback Rick Erwin rewrote eight standing school records. The records included total yards, average yards gain, number of touchdowns, points scored, yards rushing, average rush, number of rushing touchdowns and a second consecutive Greater Cleveland Conference Championship. A season long goal of the offense was to upset the standing total yard record of 3,299 set in 1986. The offense reached their goal by rolling to 3,536 yards, surpassing the old record by 237 yards. The offense achieved this goal with outstanding backs, talented receivers, and skilled linemen. This year's offense definitely proved to be excellent. With the likes of Robert Smith and other talented players returning next year, the team will give the record books a run for the money once again.

The defense, led by captains Steve Tajgiser, Bruce Hardman, Mike Barnes, and Mike Kitchin, proved to be one of the toughest defenses in the area. They dominated the G.C.C. only giving up a total of 1,020 yards. Throughout the season the tough panther defense only gave up 1,654 yards and allowed only two passing touchdowns. The defense held all opponents to a scoring minimum which helped the team outscore its opponents 375 to 73. They lead the league in interceptions with nineteen. They allowed only eleven touchdowns all year and delivered some of the most furious hits this school has ever seen. This year the team will graduate several experienced, tough seniors. We are confident, however, that the upcoming juniors and seniors can meet the challenge that has been set by this outstanding group of athletes.

This year's Panther Football team will not be soon forgotten. The seniors on the team can proudly boast of an outstanding career record of 37-5 which dates back to the first game of freshman football in the fall of 1985. Since then the team has clinched two consecutive G.C.C. championships and two consecutive Division I State Playoff berths. I believe that I can speak for the entire team in saying that the four years playing for Euclid have been great and that we will never forget them. It is now up to the juniors and seniors of next year to continue the legacy which has been started here at Euclid. We are confident they can do it and we are behind them 100%. As for the seniors, the school thanks them for great athletic ability and commends them on their outstanding career here at Euclid.

Varsity was one of the best in Euclid's history

Season Summary

Mike Barnes and Robert Smith rushing, Rick Erwin passing, Tom Zovko kicking extra points, the defense shutting down the run and Robert Smith being congratulated by coach Banc for scoring another touchdown.
Explosive offense and stingy defense

A signal that Euclid saw many times this year.

Football

Talk about intensity, notice the water vapor coming off Bruce Hardman's head.

By the end of the game there was not much intensity on the sidelines.

One of the few times that Rick Erwin had to punt.
Robert Smith. The name doesn’t seem to be anything special, but the person Robert Smith is certainly special. Probably no athlete the the history of Euclid High School is as well known. And yet he is only a junior. He has one more year. Last year he was Co-MVP in the GCC, but this year he had it all to himself. When one read the football articles in the newspapers during the season one name was always mentioned, Robert Smith of Euclid. The standard by which everyone else was compared. He made the News Herald and Plain Dealer Player-of-the-week but deserved to get it every week. He scored 126 points during the season which is more (by 48) than anyone else in the greater Cleveland area. He gained 1564 yards throughout the season which is the most yards ever gained by someone at Euclid High School. As impressive as his statistics were one has to remember that with the exception of the one loss he seldom saw action in the third and fourth quarters. One has to wonder what the scores would have been had he played the entire game.

Watching him run was a truly enjoyable experience. To see him cut between two defenders that thought they had him and end up in the end zone was really exciting. His mere presence on the field was intimidating to some teams. After Bedford punt ed their first two times and Robert ran the punts back for touchdowns they were noticeably shaken. Whenever they punted they angled the ball away from him and were coming up with ten and fifteen yard punts.

Robert is a very intelligent young man who is taking Honors classes and seems to know where he is going. Next year he is probably going to be the most heavily recruited player in the Cleveland area or maybe even the state. If he can keep his head on straight he will be able to go far with his life. To watch him run with the football is a truly memorable experience. As one spectator told coach Banc, “I'm not a Euclid fan, I'm a Robert Smith fan.

Euclid Players Shine
Euclid had many players on All G.C.C.

Not only have the Euclid Panthers achieved the number one spot in the Greater Cleveland Conference but a select group has also been recognized for a special first All G.C.C. team. These players have earned this honor through their continuous outstanding performance. The following players have been chosen: Steve Tajgiszer (linebacker), Mark Morek (linebacker), Darren Pekar (defensive lineman), Robert Smith (offback of the year), Bruce Hardman (offensive lineman), and Mike Barnes (fullback).

Football
The Junior Varsity football team had an excellent season while posting a six and one mark and finishing first in the GCC. They were able to exhibit a lot of new talent that should be a benefit for the varsity in future years.

A quarterback’s nightmare.

A quarterback’s dream.

"All in favor of an option play, raise your hand."

Darnell Cole’s run keeps the drive alive.
Future In The Freshmen
Frosh team get their chance to shine

The Freshman football team had a disappointing year while posting a two and five record. One can only hope that there will be enough talent in the junior varsity and the new students who will be coming up from the middle schools to enable the football program to remain as strong in the future as it is now.
Sock It To 'Em
Euclid soccer kicked around some opponents

The Varsity Soccer team had a positive year. They finished in fourth place in the league. Thanks to all the seniors who made this season a winning one. Good luck to all the returning and new players who are on next year’s team.

Increasing from last year’s record, the J.V. Soccer team had a great year. Mike Durbin, their coach, was very proud.

The Freshman Soccer team, coached by Jim Presot, had a great year. Their season record increased largely from last year. Coach Presot was happy with their record. They finished the season with a positive attitude and a possible championship for next year.

Spiking Out

Girl’s volleyball has a difficult season

Volleyball season fell upon E.H.S. once again and the girls were called to duty. Many new faces played for Euclid on the freshman team, while some returned for their second, third, and fourth consecutive years in the junior and varsity teams. These girls pulled together with all of their unique skills to form some good teams. They played an interesting season, continually bouncing back from many losses. The spectators hope they can combine their skills next year for an even better season.

Although this season wasn't a very successful one for the Euclid Panther Girls' Tennis Team, each player had a terrific time in the spirit of the game. Led by Coach Pete Swope and co-captains Chris Oboczky and Heather Morrison, the Pantherettes tried their hardest in each match and showed some definite improvement by the end of the season. Unfortunately, except for sophomore June U and junior Jennifer Mason, the rest of the team will graduate come June. The team was rounded out by Beth Schafer, Kelly Hyne, Michele Yee, Liz Oroz, Sunny U, and Kelly Higgins. At the close of the season, Chris Oboczky was named Most Valuable Player and Michele Yee was named Most Improved Player. The Euclid Girls' Tennis Team personified the Panther spirit of competition and enjoyment.

No glory for the seniors

After last year's second place finish, the Euclid golfers had hoped to accomplish more than a tie for fourth place in the G.C.C. This year's team, comprised of 4 seniors, 1 junior, 1 sophomore, and 1 freshmen, got off to a rough 0 and 5 start. They finally got their act together and by the end of the season finished with 6 wins, 7 losses, and 1 tie.

Captain Scott Duke lead the team with a 41 average, Jason Straub had a 44, Joe Solnosky, 45, John Shivak, 46, and Jeff Simenc had a 48. Phill Sillia, the team's number six man, played in five matches and shows great promise for next year's team. Tim Pae showed dramatic improvement and is looking forward to the 1989 golf season.

This Cross Country season started off to a foul start when the Euclid boys lost to Chardon in their first dual meet. After being plagued by inconsistent performances the guys gave a hint that they meant to accomplish something when led by Bob Bell and co-captain Lee Taurman they gave Regional Champion Mentor the toughest dual meet the Champs had had in a long time losing by only nine points. Despite losing co-captain Doug Mehs to back problems, the boys' team went on to win the North Coast Invitational and take second place at the University School Invitational the very next day. The Euclid boys finished second in the Greater Cleveland Conference. On First Team All-G.C.C. were seniors Lee Taurman and Dan Francetic while juniors Bob Bell and Bob Jones were on Second Team All-G.C.C.. The guys finished third at the District meet moving on to Regionals where they finished eighth, three places short of moving on to the state meet. The Most Valuable Runner was Lee Taurman, the Most Improved Bob Jones, and the Outstanding Sophomore Mike Carney.

Girl's cross country tie for second

Led by Sophomores Meredith Fitzgerald and India Ford the Euclid girls started the 1988 season by beating Chardon. The girls' team went on to take second at the St. Joseph, Malone, Northeast Coast, and Walsh Invitations with Meredith and India having the best Euclid individual finishes at Malone with second and third place finishes respectively. At the last dual meet of the year Meredith, India, captain Jeanette Sas, Lee Jackson, Lisa Marvin, Jill Tomasi, and Missy Rocco had lifetime best times that are among the top twenty best times ever run by Euclid girls. The girls finished third in the GCC meet and were tied for second in the GCC with a 6 and 1 record. At the District meet the Euclid team was third moving on to Regionals where they finished fifth, one place shy of going to state as a team, while Meredith and India qualified as individuals. At State India finished sixth and Meredith fifteenth out of more than 120 runners. On First Team All-GCC were Meredith and India while Jeanette was on Second Team All-GCC. Co-Most Valuable Runners were Meredith and India and Lisa Marvin the Most Improved.

Not Enough To Go Around

Wrestling suffered from lack of participation

What started out looking as a very promising season soon turned into an injury riddled problem with unlimited underclassmen filling the ranks on the varsity. With the large number of injuries to the varsity members it was sometimes impossible to fill all the weight slots in the JV matches and because of that there were many forfeits. Many of the wrestlers that were there did well but there were just too many vacancies. First year coach, Tim D'Anna said "The record doesn't reflect the ability and desire of the team." With this year being for experience for the underclassmen, next year looks promising.

The Freshmen Wrestling team had a good season but also suffered from not enough people on the team which led to many forfeits. The talent coming up from the freshmen should help next year's varsity.

Another Super Season
Boy's basketball has great season in GCC

Last year's Varsity basketball team, finishing first in the GCC, left a tough record for this year's team to follow. And if following in the footsteps of last year's first place team wasn't difficult enough, the team had to do it with only Mike Guilfoyle as a returning starter. Somehow though, coach Doc Daugherty managed to rebuild his team into another powerhouse of the GCC. With starters like Mike Guilfoyle, Terence Bush, Terry Roscoe, Terenz Parker and Eddie Powers, the team was able to come through in the GCC. A major advantage that coach Daugherty had was a strong bench so he could substitute freely and keep everyone fresh. The team did a lot of running and passing and was extremely exciting to watch.

Euclid High's J.V. basketball team had an exceptional year led by Coach Turkall. They won the majority of their games with their starting lineup of Matt Garbincus and Chuck Yurcich as guards, with backups Jason Weybrecht and Tim Hoffman. The forwards are Justin Daughterty and Marlon Moore. With freshman backups Ken Davis and Alvin Smith. The center being Joe Gornik and his backup Darryl East. Coach Turkall has been coaching for twenty-three years as well as teaching Math.

Some feel the J.V. game is only a warmup to the bigger and better event of the Varsity team, but that's not the case at Euclid. When the J.V. game begins, the fans start to cheer, and the J.V. cheerleaders eagerly jump and clap. After watching our J.V. team put in all of their effort and hard work, it pays off with the J.V. boys walking off the court with another win for the evening.

Freshman Team Has Good Year

The ninth grade basketball team under coach Roy Pignatiello finished a successful with a 12-4 mark. Captains Brian Dunmire and David Grice along with John Vuyancich, Ed Bizay, Devan Jackson, Joe Sweet, Mike McDougall, and Steve Lindsey set a tone for the total team effort displayed by the squad. The highlight of the season saw the young Panthers avenge an earlier season loss to an undefeated Mentor Ridge team. The season ended with a tough loss to Maple Hts. in the Freshman Tournament.

The girl's varsity basketball team, coached by Terry Dubroy, finished the season with an excellent record and finished among the leaders in the G.C.C. There were five seniors and five underclassmen. The seniors were Jennifer Davis who played center, Laura Zigman was a forward, Kelly Hyne was also a forward, Jeanette Sas and Kelly Vanah as guards. The underclassmen were three juniors and two sophomores. The juniors were Tracy Prestigomo and Mia Harrison who were forwards, and Toni Chiudioni who was a guard. The sophomores were Colleen Bradach, a guard, and Terri Blasius, center. The team worked hard all season and did well despite losing the entire team from last year.

The Euclid Panthers Junior Varsity Basketball team coached by Sue Drienka had a nice season going. They started out the season by losing their high scorer, Jill Slattery, at a home game against Mayfield. As Jill was hospitalized with a broken femur, that left room for Catinna Brewington to become the new scorer. The J.V. was able to finish the season with close to a .500 record using the following starters: Shelly Tobias at guard, Colleen Gallagher as the other guard, Jennifer Hiser at the power forward, and Shanel Gibson as the other forward spot. The following girls made up the rest of the Euclid Panther squad: Dee Dee McGhee, Sue Hamilton, Chrissy Subel, Jackie Zele, Meghan Gorman, Kelli Kekic, and Andrea Colavecchio.

The girls got a lot of experience which should be useful to the varsity team for next year.

Freshmen get experience on the court

This year Euclid Panthers Girls Basketball team seemed to have potential. When this young group of girls came to Euclid this year they made a choice to go out for basketball and to work as a team. They didn't know their teammates very well but they tried to work together. With being a champion team came hard work, sacrifice and endurance, which these girls seemed to have. These girls knew each other and recognized each others abilities as a basketball player as well as a person. These girls represented Euclid High School and its commitment to excellence. As the year continued these girls found themselves not only better basketball players, but better students also.

Indoor track has another great season

Led by Tarnell Thompson and Robert Smith, the indoor-running Panthers continued their tradition of winning meets at home. These Panthers opened the season by soundly defeating Warrensville. Among the athletes starting the season were Thompson, Smith, Tawfig Akhir and, captain, Lee Taurman. These winter athletes made sure they left an impression on visitors by being strong all-around and by cracking their opponents; however, not allowing their own team unity to be cracked.

Strong sprinters were Thompson, Smith, Akhir, James Mixon, Ron Chandler, and Michael O'Flynn along with strong distance runners Lee Taurman, Mike Carney, Bob Jones, Phil Arnold, and Dan Francetic.

A strong but able girls’ team was led by Leila Thomas and Jill Tomasi.

Hockey team tries hard but comes up short

The Euclid Hockey Team started its 88-89 season with its third coach in four years. Head coach, Forest Dixon, brought in many new ideas for the team. They found success in the Elyria Tournament, placing second, but bad habits on the part of the players caused them to fall short of their .500 goal. In division play, they defeated their rivals: Mentor, 2-0 and Elyria, 8-3. The guys played better then last year and are looking forward to the next victorious season with the combined efforts of returning players and incoming Freshman.

Girl’s swim team finishes strong in GCC

The girl’s swim team started out with a few uneven stitches this year; however, with only a handful of swimmers, the team began to pull through slowly but surely. Each girl contributed their best last fall which led to a well deserved victory.

Winter days during the swim season were cold, but the path through the snow to the pool wore quickly. In late November, the Pantherettes began their day at 5:30 A.M. to get ready for their 6:00 A.M. practice. Morning practice ended at 7:00 A.M. and then everyone went to their classes. After 8th period, all of the swimmers traveled back to the pool for another two hour practice after which they returned home. The days were hard and long, but the smiles that were shared and the accomplishments that were achieved were worth all of the strenuous work.

As the season progressed, through the colds and the pulled muscles, these athletes built up their small quantity into extreme quality. The Pantherettes will be back next year to give their all for the Blue and Gold.

The People Behind The Team

Sports aides are there to back up the team.

Ask any coach of one of Euclid’s great sports’ teams and they will tell you that they are necessary people that help them look so good. Who are these people? They are the sports aides. They keep statistics, times, and wrap sprained ankles. Sports aides show their Panther spirit by attending every practice and game, rooting their teams on, and urging them not to give up. So when those coaches look so good remember the people standing quietly in the background.

The Euclid High School staff was made up of very special people. They worked hard in providing all that was needed by the students. As always, the teachers were very willing to help out in any possible way, whether it was academic or extracurricular, they took time out to help their students.

Julie Groves said that "the counselors did a much better job of scheduling this year and there seemed to be a lot fewer errors".

What is a teacher?

For those students who still do not understand what the word teacher stands for, here are a few synonyms: preceptor, instructor, master, tutor, dominie, pedagogue, governess, mistress, coach, crammer, professor, don, lecturer, reader, preacher, pastor, counselor, advisor, mentor, pioneer, apostle, etc.

Wait until you see the definition of a Freshman.

More of Euclid’s dedicated staff

Euclid’s staff loves to help sophomores

SOPHOMORES

For the next higher level of mankind or ladykind, the sophomores, a definition is:
sophos, meaning wise. moroes, meaning moron.
Sophomores, your title is an oxymoron so perhaps you should all come together to decide if sophomores are wise? or morons?

-Helen Chen

Most teachers enjoy teaching sophomores. They have many enjoyable characteristics. Since they’ve already been at Euclid one year they are comfortable in the school. But they are still inexperienced enough so that they can enjoy being with the Euclid staff. They still have that curiosity and awe that makes them enjoyable to be around.

Euclid’s classrooms are clean, well kept places for learning.

JUNIORS

For the almost perfect class, the juniors, some definitions are:
1) a person holding a lower position in a hierarchy of ranks or standings (below the seniors).
2) youthful
3) adolescent
4) of a more recent date and, therefore, inferior or subordinate (to the seniors).
5) compare to juvenis-young.

SENIORS

For the perfect, glamorous, outrageous Seniors of the '89 school year, your classic definitions are:
1) person of the highest standing or rank
2) superior in all aspects
3) privileged status attained by length of high school survival

-Helen Chen

December 16, 1988 was the annual senior elf day at Euclid High School. But everyone had the Christmas spirit as elves went to their Santa’s classrooms and carried their Santa’s books. Even teachers were Santas. In order to be an elf, seniors had to sell five dollars worth of tickets, which were fifty cents each, to their friends. The proceeds from this fundraiser, sponsored by Senior Class Cabinet, went toward the upcoming Senior Prom.

All in all elf day was fun filled for everyone.

Over the years the hairstyles of the sophomore class have drastically changed. There's been everything from straight to wavy, long to short, and flat to frizzy. This year there seemed to be a combination of these hairstyles but the one that seemed to stand out (and I do mean stand out) and seemed to be the most annoying to many was the "fluff" or "frizzy" look. It was a nice look but the problem with the fluffy look was that the use of entirely too much hairspray seemed to be contributing to the diminishing of the ozone layer. So what should have been stressed was a more controlled use of hairspray so that our small world would have a fighting chance to survive.

That magical year of one's education, known as the sophomore year, can be one of dramatic change. Most 10th graders are either 16 or about to turn 16 and are striving to obtain the magic plastic, a.k.a. the driver's license. A sophomore is not as gullible as he or she was the previous year. No longer a naive freshman, a sophomore now (figuratively) knows the ways of Euclid High. So live it up now, Underclassmen. Before you know it your senior year will be over and these will be the days you will remember with a reminiscent smile.

Both these girls were unique in that Meredith was in the Honors program at Euclid and was an excellent student. India was in the Holiday Play both her freshman and sophomore years. Both were an asset to Euclid High School and should help the cross country team for years to come.

Biology is an important class for sophomores. Meredith Fitzgerald running on the cross country course.

India Ford got the best finish at the state cross country meet for any Euclid girl.

As Seniors rush around getting teacher recommendations and sending out college applications and begin worrying about what they will be doing after school, the Juniors enjoy the luxury of day dreaming about their 'bright' future as Seniors at Euclid High School. They dream of ruling the school with an iron hand and overshadowing the reputation of the previous Senior class. Soon the Juniors will become Seniors and they will enjoy what many people term the most memorable year of high school. Good Luck class of '90 as you take the responsibility of being Seniors.

On December 6, 1988 Euclid High School took part in its annual blood drive which was sponsored by the Euclid Cultural Committee. It was organized by Ms. Carrol and Sean Allen, but everyone chipped in to help. The blood drive gave students an opportunity to help those in need of blood. Students who were seventeen needed their parents permission, but those eighteen or over did not. The blood drive went very smoothly and the blood was very much appreciated.

-Rashawn Perry

Students learn that giving blood does not have to be a draining experience.
You Won't Believe It, But...
Euclid students come up with creative excuses

During the school year some teachers fell for excuses given by students for many different reasons, such as being late to class, test taking, or just for goofing off. Some of the excuses were outlandish and some were almost believable, but the excuses that received the most flack from the teachers were the ones that were most likely true. "You never said we had a test today," or "I wasn't here for that," were very common. And as Darren Pekar would say "You didn't teach us that." Some excuses for being late to class were: "My alarm didn't go off," or "My counselor had to talk to me," or as said by Shawna Stevenson "My locker wouldn't open." When caught goofing off in class, Dan Amato would say "It wasn't me!" and "Really, I didn't mean to." The excuse that Marlene Hribar would give was "I have nothing better to do."

But when it comes down to it, some teachers won't believe any line you feed them - no matter how ingenious it is.

Students didn't have to eat just during lunch periods.

To the relief of many students who are not "the morning type," the cafeteria was opened this year for breakfast. The early riser who happened to be in school between 7:15 and 7:35 would find the cafeteria open for business. Donuts, muffins, danishes, orange juice, hot chocolate, and coffee were among the many vit- tles that could be bought. This breakfast time became very valuable to students who normally didn't have time to eat before they came to school, but it posed the problem of hiding the food from the first period teachers.

One universal feeling that was held by most juniors was the anticipation that next year would be their 'senior' year. Most juniors expressed a "just wait until next year" attitude as they went through the motions of being juniors. The class of '90 was looking forward to their senior year. They will be the first class to graduate from Euclid in the new decade, the last decade in the 1900's. Most juniors were not concerned about the date, however. They just wanted to be seniors. As John Marinek said, "Being a senior is the end of your high school career. It's an important time. I am really going to enjoy it."

Students looking forward to next year as seniors.

Another season, another proverbial slap in the face. Our "hard luck" Cleveland Browns took yet another heartbreak season as far as the rabbits up their sleeves could carry them.

During the '88 season, one which saw nearly every one of the team's quarterbacks wearing a bullseye, the Brown's had their share of injuries. The very first game of the season gave a pretty accurate indication of the season to come. Cleveland cried in horror as franchise quarterback, Bernie Kosar, sprained his elbow and was out of commission for the next several weeks.

Fortunately, back up QB, Gary Danielson, was available to guide us through this time of misery with his superb veteran skill. Unfortunately, his leg was broken shortly thereafter. Well, there's always Mike Pagel. What's that you say? Separated his shoulder making a tackle? How's Bernie getting along?

Kosar finally returned after what seemed to be an eternity, only to be knocked back on the bench with a knee injury by Miami linebacker, John Offerdahl. See ya next season, Bern! Enter Don Strock. After years of playing second fiddle to Dan Marino, Strock guided us in one of the greatest comebacks of Cleveland history to defeat the Oilers and gain a wildcard. Alas, Strock, our savior, too, fell in that game and the Brown's ended the season a point shy of "Jerry's Kids."

Although they didn't advance as far as former playoff appearance, the Brown's took "the Band Aid season" as far as possible.

-Bill Castrovince

Euclid's teams might not have been as skillfull as the Browns but they were exciting to watch.
The divine class of '89 sparked the Euclid spirit as their enthusiasm and dynamic character radiated through the halls. Being the 40th class to graduate, the senior panthers represented something special. They were the first class at Euclid to have color senior pictures in the yearbook. Their varsity football team had won the G.C.C. for two years in a row. They had out participated any class in christmas decorations, fund raisers and in general spirit.

This was the first year of the severe cut-backs yet the class of '89 had been lucky in that they had not felt the full effect of the financial crisis of Euclid schools. "Pay for play" and an additional students activity fee became new concepts and necessities of the year. But other than this the majority of the class experienced very little change in their school year.

Musically, literally, athletically, and most of all academically the Euclid Panther Class of 1989 represented the finest individuals, not to mention optimistic and determined amidst the levy turmoil.

The class of '89 ruled!

Radio has always been an important part in everyone's life since it was so portable. A radio could be taken to parties, the beach or listened to while driving. The radio station that was listened to most by Euclid seniors was WMMS 100.7 FM. In a close second was 108 FM. After that was WZAK 93 FM, WNCX 98.5 FM, and 92 Q.

What kind of rock groups did seniors enjoy when they were listening to the radio? The most popular was "INXS" followed by "Pink Floyd" and "U2". Then came "Public Enemy", "Led Zeppelin", "Van Halen", "The Doors", "New Order", "Huey Lewis and the News", "Bobby Brown", "AC/DC", "New Edition", "Def Leppard", "The Kinks", "Genesis", "Bon Jovi", "KISS", "Guns and Roses", "Rush" and "The Beach Boys".

Heidi Martin: The disastrous opening night of “Why Bump Off Barnaby?”
Danielle Tuckerman: Lisa Hradek could not find the bright lights on the car.
Curt Spencer: The strike on the first day of school in 11th grade.
Mike Guilfoyle: We went to Orlando for the baseball tournament.
Kathy Kushma: I would be at after school gym make-ups, running and swimming, every week.
Beth Perdan: You could listen to a radio and wear a hat and not get suspended.
Bill McGuinness: Jim Braidic spoke on the microphone to all the junior class on the first day of our junior year - and Mr. Pasquale’s reaction.

Rashawn Perry: Everybody got in trouble for being bad on the bus.
Barbie Jurkovic: We could afford to eat lunch - it was only $1.00.
Mike Betts: The Varsity Chorale/jazz band trip. Our tour guide loved the letter “U”.
Maria Gelo: The earthquake in 9th grade on conference day.
Chantel Van Dyne: We had homeroom before first period.
Amy Hickok: Nora Race turned orange from a tanning booth and during chemistry Mr. Wherley turned a radiation detector on her. The beeping got louder showing radiation.
Laurie Zigman: I had all the parties in the 10th grade without my parents knowing.
Frances Hribar: The Homecoming game against Mayfield when there was a thunderstorm and the lights went out.
Lee Taurman and Jim Bell: On our first day of 9th grade there was a banner over the door saying “Frosh go home”.
Diane Cickavage: Jeannie Mayerhoffer and I almost blew up the chemistry lab when our gas line got a leak.

Remember When...Central

Euclid's seniors have many fond memories of what life was like in their middle schools. Here are some of the memories that they have of Central.

Julie Groves remembers the Olympic class competition. Mark Morek said the classes were easy.

Tracy Thomas remembers when Steve Tajgizer ripped about $30 worth of pictures out of her locker because he didn't like Duran Duran.

Diane Miller remembers Mrs. Reed's cooking and sewing class.

Chantel Van Dyne went to a swim and gym with Mary Lepesto and got kicked out.

Amy Hickok remembers when Mr. Francetic got mad and his vein started to pulsate.

Gunhild Meaney and Cheryl Porter wrestled for about an hour and everybody just sat there and watched as they beat the heck out of each other.

Lisa Anderson remembers going to McDonalds after dances and going to the Pizza Factory after basketball games.

Vince Riha remembers when Mr. Mevey beat up Jim White for calling him Fred.

Michelle Sari remembers playing football at lunch with Karen Reed.

Kim Konrad remembers when the 8th grade cheerleaders picked a camp that had a pool and when they got there, there was no pool.

Michelle Krance remembers when Miss Foley used to slide across the room.

Karen Reed remembers when they took spools of thread in sewing class and wrapped them around the entire room.

Erica Richards had an Uncle Vic Dance.

Lisa Drage remembers Mrs. Reed's home economics class, Miss Foley's French class- “Bon Bon”, and Mr. Syracuse putting T.G.I.M. on the board every Monday morning.

Kathy Kushma remembers when they used to do about 500 laps of daisy chain for track practice and having a lot of fun in woodshop and sewing class.

Mr. Fritch would wear his funky clothes and give us Bionic Smock.

-Heidi Martin
Memories...Forest Park

Being one of the last classes to go to Forest Park Middle School, we have many fond memories of that brick building, home of the Rangers. Here several students recall those memories.

Valencia Strowder remembers when all the lights went out in the building and everyone started screaming.

Heidi Martin remembers dinner for 13 at a French restaurant in Toronto.

Kelli Vanah remembers Angela Gianforte broke Jeanette Sas’ nose.

Curt Spencer remembers when the lights went out in the seventh grade and the high school students got to go home but we didn’t.

Veronica Piscopo remembers sleeping during News-depth in Vac’s class.

Michele Savalainen remembers Mr. Sheck’s tantrums.

Beth Perdan remembers when Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Knopick made the gym classes get out of an electrically fenced area.

Leila Thomas remembers “We had to go out on the football field to fly kites in Mr. Zovack’s class.”

Mike Betts remembers when Sally Brener dropped her pina colada all over the table and Mike’s lap.

Chantel Van Dyne remembers “In gym we were playing tennis and Joe Velkos took my tennis ball and when I went to get it, he hit me in the eye accidently with his tennis racket. He hasn’t talked to me since.”

Lee Taurman fondly remembers that Forest Park was a middle school.

Dannelle Gildone remembers Diane Koman hanging from the bleachers.

Carmella Cornelius remembers when “John (the really, really fat kid) fell down the stairs.”

Lucretia Dillard remembers when the whole cafeteria got into a food fight.

Joe Goerdnt remembers when he slept through the fire alarm at 5:00 A.M. at the hotel in Toronto.

Steve Smith remembers how Mr. Roshong would change clothes twice a day.

Diane Koman remembers when Bill Kunes gave Leila Thomas a dozen red roses and she rejected him.

Lisa Kirchner remembers when Mr. Giollotte got married.

Liz Oroz remembers “We all used to drool over Mr. Zovack’s muscles.”

Trycennia Dean remembers “We had a good fight in seventh grade.”

I was so embarrassed...Underclassmen may at times think that seniors are perfect but they too have their little flukes and embarrassing moments when they want to hide under a rock to hide. Here are some which the seniors chose to reveal.

Valencia Strouder was walking up the stairs and started to trip. As she was tripping, someone called her name. She did a 180 in the air and fell gracefully on her back with her feet in the air.

Kelli Vanah was at a water slide and was pushed under a waterfall and her suit was forced down to her waist. There were about 30 people around.

Michelle Spencer walked into the wrong homeroom and sat there for 10 minutes, not knowing it was the wrong room. Curt Spencer and his sister almost got separated for fighting in the hall.

Julie Groves was chasing the volleyball in gym class, when her ankle gave out and she ended up lying face down on the floor. Mike Lequire hit a hard line drive over the third baseman’s head, rounded third, tripped, fell halfway home, and was tagged out.

Mark Morek was caught in the men’s faculty lounge.

Bill McGuinness put a sign on Mrs. Tkac’s back in ninth grade. Gina Diadario fell down the steps as a freshman. She stopped tumbling someone ran up to her and yelled “Safety!”

Chris Fritkovich used some soap to spike his hair, and when he was walking to school it started raining. By the time he got to the door his hair was a big mass of bubbles.

Heidi Martin, Gina Diadario, Michelle O’Fynn, Michele Savolainen, Diane Miller, Frances Hribar, Trycennia Dean, and Mary Sweet all had bad experiences tripping on the stairs.

Michelle Spencer, Kirstin Esch, and Howard Taylor all walked in on the wrong classes.

Many of the students at E.H.S. had trouble with their clothes. Steve Smith sat on M&M’s, Julie Fischer had unbuttoned skirt buttons in biology. Tracy Salaro ripped her pants walking to school, Michelle Krance’s bra broke in lunch, Bill Karabinus had his pants fall down during a hockey game, Kathy Kushma was caught skinny dipping with friends, Jim Bell walked around all day with a whole in the back of his pants. Mr. Seymour stepped the whole keyboarding class to tell Michelle Sari her bra strap was showing, and Mike Betts spit milk on his lap during lunch.

Theresa Zahursky pushed Diane Koman off a chair, Danielle Tuckerman fell out of a chair, Erica Richards and Michelle Sari fell out of their desks, and Lisa Kirchner fell down a flag pole during vacation and ended up in the hospital.

Christy Fazio ran into Paul Harris, Danielle Gildone ran into a brick wall, Rashawn Perry ran into a locker, Kay Corrigan fell of a blue box in Varsity Chorale, and Kelly Higgins twisted her ankle.

Brent Pockar fell asleep in seventh period French and woke up in the middle of eighth period German.

Liz Oroz called up her boyfriend and ended up talking to his brother without realizing it.

Beth Perdan went to Germany, got sick and came home early.

Karen Reed and Nora Race got locked in the boys’ locker room, as did Leila Thomas.

Kim Konrad got caught ‘parking’ and a cop asked them if they were legal and gave them a lecture.

Lucretia Dillard played a flat note during a dinner for the mayor of Euclid.

Gerald Moore was wrestling and got pinned by Maple Heights. Amy Hickok and the whole varsity cheerleading squad messed up during competition.

Gunny Meany fell headfirst backwards down seven rows at a football game and was knocked out.

Lisa Anderson was placed in a swim relay, having never swum one before without goggles. She ended up doing a flip turn in the middle of the lap and disqualified the team.

Laurie Zigman tried to pick up a quarter that was glued to the floor by Mike Dunn.

Maria Gelo broke a tray of plates in the cafeteria.

Lee Taurman could not find his drafting class for the first two weeks of school.

-Heidi Martin

As this poll shows, a major portion of the senior class likes to travel on their spring vacation. There are those who just work or relax but whatever their plans, the unanimous vote is to have a blast! The seniors’ plans for spring break are:

Curt O’Neal says his goal is to catch the Easter Bunny. Valencia Stroud is looking forward to chillin’ and getting paid.

Heidi Martin plans on going to West Virginia. Kelli Vanah would like to stay in a beach front condo on Myrtle Beach.

Jim Cudo says he will party in Florida.

Julie Groves also plans on going to Florida.

Once again, the seniors made their choices as to their favorite teacher and class. The top vote getters were Mr. Serra and Mr. Hartman. In second, came Mr. Lowe, Ms. Arthur, Mr. Raicevich, Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. Tkac. Other favorites mentioned were Mr. Russo, Mrs. Fox, Mr. Pasquale, Mr. Pawlowski, Mr. Godfrey, Miss Bambic, Mr. Von Benken, Mrs. Morris, Mr. Burns, Mr. Durbin, Mr. Reno, and Mr. Wensing. Practically all teachers seem to be chosen favorites of some seniors. English and mathematics ranked as the number one classes followed very closely by psychology and commercial art. Other favorites included computer science, physics, A.P. calculus, photography, government and German. Just as with teachers, seniors found it hard to make a definite choice except for lunch.

Seniors 183
Many seniors from the class of ’89 are planning on attending college. Every student differs in their dreams. Here are some of those goals. Valencia Strowder: go to Spelman and marry a Morehouse man. Vada Owens: go to Kent State or Central State. Chantel Van Dyne: get accepted somewhere. Gunhild Meaney: be the first girl not to gain any weight. Gerald Moore: major in criminal justice or psychology. Pat Cater: attend Borromeo and St. Mary’s Seminary to study for the priesthood. Mary Sweet: attend college for four years and learn to turn letters to take over Vanna White’s job. Lisa Drage, Brent Pockar, Steve Smith, Cathy Chiancone, and Maria Dent: attend OSU. Mike Guilfoyle: attend Duke and play baseball. Mark Morek, Dal Miranda, and Howard Taylor: plan on entering the armed services. Curt O’Neal: take one day at a time. Julie Fischer: go to school as far away as possible from her parents. Michelle Spencer, Frances Hribar, Maria Gelo, and Lee Taurman: major in business in college. Christy Fazio: wants to become an interior designer. Jim Cudo: go to Tri-C at night to study to be a cop. Kim Konrad, Bill McGuinness, Diane Miller, and Lisa Kirchner: plan to major in education. Tawfig Akhir, Gina Diaddario, and Veronica Piscopo: plan on majoring in art. Kay Corrigan and Karen Reed: plan to major in advertising and accounting. -Heidi Martin and Julie Groves
Prom Plans
Seniors plan for prom

Seniors were polled as to what they would be doing for the prom. Here are some of the typical responses.

Vada Owens, Bill Kunes, Kelli Vanah, Michelle Spencer, Mike Guilfoyle, Christina Fasick, Karen Reen, Jennifer O’Neill, Tawfig Akhir, Gina Diaddario, Michele Savolainen, Leila Thomas, Diane Miller and Gilbert Urena are all planning on having a good time.

Mark Morek, Mike Betts, Kim Konrad and Valencia Strouder all plan on going out of town after the prom.

Jim Cudo, Darren Pekar, Lucretia Dillard, Gerald Moore and Liz Oroz are going to do a lot of partying.

Heidi Martin wants to take a limo by a McDonalds drive thru window.

Curt Spencer just wants to go.

Kay Corrigan wants to finally have the person she wants right there by her side.

Veronica Piscopo wants to go and leave alive.

Rashawn Perry wants to go to after prom and then to discos for most of the night.

Tracy Thomas wants to wear a tux.

Shelly Tinker wants to find a gorgeous dress, rent a limo and go with a guy wearing a white tux with tails.

Barbie Jurkovic wants to go and meet people from her graduating class that she has never even seen.

Beth Perdan wants to watch the sun rise with her friends and Cathy turn green.

Curt O’Neal wants to give flowers and happiness to his date.

Willie Daniel II is planning on going with more than one girl.

Lisa Anderson is going with a gorgeous guy and have one of her most memorable times.

Maria Gelo hopes to go drag racing in her limo.

Kim Konrad hopes to go to her aunt’s cottage at Put-in-Bay and go to Cedar Point.

Steve Smith wants to have a good time and not wake up the day after with a hangover or a baby.

Tracy Scolaro hopes to visit the Kokomos after the prom.

Kelly Higgins is planning on having the most awesome dress and had and arrive in a 1965 candy apple red Ford Mustang.

Homecoming was a lot of fun but prom is much better.
The Class of ’89, apart from being hard workers, took time out to go with friends to the movies or to lounge around and read a book. The top ranked movies for seniors were “Dirty Dancing,” “Cocktail,” “Top Gun,” and “Raw.” Others mentioned included “Nightmare on Elm Street Part 4,” “Fatal Attraction,” “Animal House,” “Platoon,” “Lost Boys,” “Caddyshack”... the list goes on. As for books, the favorite novels were Of Mice and Men, The Catcher in the Rye, A Tale of Two Cities, Wuthering Heights, Lord of the Flies, The Outsiders, and In Cold Blood. It is a variety of interest representing a variety of individuals. Indeed, the seniors here at Euclid have great taste in entertainment.-Heidi Martin

Students found art classes interesting.

Joe Jankowski recommends “Modern Physics”.

Denise Murphy looks lovely with literature.

Students showing that books are important in their classes.
What’s On TV?

Seniors relate their favorite television shows

Could this be a new filming location for "Sesame Street"?

Danielle Tuckerman, Lisa Anderson and Christina Fasick, the new "Star Search" regulars?

Nora Race, Marie Sheridan and Kristie Attwood probably wish they were on "The Dating Game".
Memories from Last Year

Due to the fact that the following events took place after the 1988 yearbook deadline, this section has been dedicated to recognizing these past activities. They are no less important than any other activities and share equal place in our memories of high school.

Looking Back
“Impossible things are happening every day” as was the case when the plain country bumpkin Cinderella was wed to Prince Christopher Rupert Windemire Vladimir Karl Alexander Francois Reginold Lancelot Herman Gregory James. (Their names sure were long enough!) We were all familiar with that absolutely delightful, romantic tale of true love at first sight and last year on March 18, 19 and 25 the story was presented in full color as Euclid High's annual musical, Big Show.

Under the ever patient, imaginative, and brilliant direction of Sandi Bambic as well as the invaluable guidance of musical director Robert Godfrey, choreographer Sally Parrino, orchestral director Bill Shafer, advisor Judith Carmody, and technical director Allen Black, a gorgeous, extravagant, breathtaking version of Cinderella thrilled adults and children alike. Of course, the cast themselves were also responsible for the spectacle; such scenes as the tender romance of Cinderella and the Prince, the balance of merriment and paternal concern of the King and Queen, the magic of the Godmother, and the hilarity of the snobby Stepmother and Stepsisters as they fell under Cinderella’s trance.

One, also, could never overlook and praise the chorus and dancers as well as all the other students that were involved because as Miss Bambic often said “one part is just as important to the show as any other in making it a success.” Those who were responsible for the beautiful performances made “Cinderella” rank as one of the best Big Shows ever. As one audience member remarked, “You can’t see everything the first time you come. It is all so beautiful, so colorful that you’d have to come back many times to see all that goes on. It was superlative.”

- Heidi Martin
What did you get when you mixed together a stabbing, an attempted poisoning, several strange disappearances, a mysterious gunshot and a creaky old mansion? Oddly enough, it was the setting for last year’s spring play “But Why Bump Off Barnaby?” Under the patient and persistent direction of Judith Carmody, this farce successfully brought laughter in abundance to its audiences.

A party was arranged at Marlgate Manor, ancestral home of Orion LeDuc, a somewhat crippled baronet, Lady Barbara Fenwick, his supposedly deaf sister-in-law, and Miss Barnsdale, the very proper, quite blind family governess. An apprehensive and sometimes rude maid, Magnolia, was hired as well as a proper and efficient butler, Medkins. Guests include Barnaby Folcey, the sole poor relation of the LeDuc’s, Cleo Barton, a fading American actress who thinks otherwise, and Dora Dunstock, Orion’s sweet but extremely naive niece. Naturally, surprise company also intrudes in the form of Rosalind Barstow, an attractive fortune hunter, and Jeff Barnett, a handsome police reporter and a friend that Cleo picked up in a pub.

What could ruin such a wonderful affair but the untimely murder of Barnaby. As Dora would say, “But why would anyone want to bump off Barnaby?” The search for the murderer and his other motive is confused by the message left by the deceased, spelling “BAR.” Everyone present was connected to these three letters, either in name or in action, with the highest suspicion falling on Dora and Jeff, who were discussing their wedding plans with Barnaby when he was killed. They all seemed to have suspicious stories as well as a further connection to what some refer to as “thingies,” “zambules,” “whatsies,” or “leg baggage.” (These were the containers that carrier pigeons carry their messages in.)

It was a hilarious and entertaining experience for both the actors and the audience.

All good things must come to an end

Thank You

The staff of the Euclidian would like to extend thanks to all who helped to make this book possible. First and foremost, thanks have to go to our advisor, Mr. Von Benken for the many long hours of hard work and leadership that he had to put in to get the entire operation going and to keep it going. No one can understand how much work is involved in putting the book together unless they have been through it. Others to be thanked are: Ohio School Pictures for processing and printing our photographs and taking the senior and underclass pictures and those of the sports teams, Jostens Yearbook Company for putting it all together, Jan Kehn for arranging photography dates and supplying needed materials, the writers and photographers who contributed their time, and last but not least the entire student body at Euclid High School without which this book could not exist.

Colophon

700 copies of the 1989 Euclidian were printed by the Jostens Printing and Publishing Division at State College, Pennsylvania. The book is printed on Gloss 191 paper stock and includes 32 pages of full color, 24 of which are the senior photographs. Palatino type was used throughout the book for captions and body copy, while News Gothic Bold was used for headlines and subheadlines. Body copy is usually set in ten point type while picture captions are set in eight point type. Headlines are set in thirty-six point type and subheadlines are set in twenty-four point type. The cover was designed by senior Tawfig Akhir. Pages were submitted to the plant at five deadlines, November 5, November 28, December 19, January 16 and the final deadline was February 20, 1989. Because of this, anything that happened after mid-February could not be included in the book.

Regrets

As the 1988-89 school year draws to an end there are several things the Euclidian staff would like to clarify.

Euclid is packed with many different kinds of people. To capture them all in the yearbook would be impossible. However, we tried our best. Because senior pictures were taken at the high school during the Fall, we feel that the senior section is more complete than in previous years. There was always the problem, of course, of people who were not enrolled at Euclid in the Fall and therefore not included in the yearbook. We are sorry, but that cannot be helped. Many underclass members are not included in the book because they did not want to have their picture taken. We feel badly about this but the situation was out of our control.

Because of the Euclidian’s small staff this year, much of the responsibility of putting it together fell on only a few shoulders. However, it was assembled with just as much creativity and care as in past years. We sincerely apologize for any errors or omissions. May this compilation serve as a treasured memory for many years to come.
